

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A dihydrofuran-containing nonlinear optical chromophore having a π -electron donor group conjugated to the dihydrofuran group through a π -electron conjugated bridge group. The nonlinear optical chromophore is a hyperpolarizable chromophore that can be used as an electro-optic modulator in electro-optic devices.